

MID-LEVEL INVESTIGATOR

Gryphon Strategies is seeking a motivated, Mid-Level Investigator with experience in the industry. The position will involve conducting telephone interviews (cold calls) with witnesses and drafting highly detailed reports based on the interviews. The types of cases that require interview work include securities fraud class actions, shareholder derivative suits, antitrust, false claims, consumer fraud, and other complex actions. The position will also require conducting research in connection with due diligence cases and other investigative matters. Candidate must be able to provide a writing sample upon request.

Gryphon Strategies, founded in 1989, specializes in corporate investigations, due diligence, data mining and analytics, litigation support, and fraud investigations. We work for law firms, financial institutions and corporations, who rely on us to conduct investigations, gather intelligence and protect their interests. We are based in White Plains, New York – just a 30-minute train ride from New York City.

We are seeking applicants with the following qualifications/skills:

- 3+ years of relevant experience
- Bachelor's degree from an accredited university (Master's degree preferred)
- Experience in fact gathering through interviews
- Exceptional writing and communication skills
- Excellent organizational skills
- Strong attention to detail
- Ability to multi-task and work in a fast-paced environment with deadlines
- Strong computer skills/internet research abilities and knowledge of investigative databases (Lexis Nexis, TLO, Bloomberg Law, etc.) a plus.
-

How to Apply

Please apply at www.gryphon-strategies.com/our-team/careers. Gryphon Strategies is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to workplace diversity. Per Article 7, Section 72 of the New York State Department of State Division of Licensing Services Private Investigators Licensing Law, every Gryphon Strategies employee must be a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States.